The Ryland-Conklin Senatorial Contest.

RAY FALK REPRIMANDED.

The People of Nogales Relieved Since the Arrival of Capt. Lawton.

Special Dispatch to the Herald.

SACRAMENTO, March 7.—The Senate to-night took up the Ryland-Conklin contest. Bowers moved the adoption of the minority report. White moved to amend by appointing a committee composed of Chandler, Caminetti and Pinder to go to San Jose and get the tickets of election and all the necessary evidence. The amendment was voted down. A vote on the adoption of the minority report was taken, and Boggs, Dixon, Gessford, Haynes, Hinshaw, Langford, McCadden and Moffitt voted with the Republicans and the minority report was adopted. Conklin retains his seat. Clavin gave notice of a reconsideration to-morrow.

The Appropriation bill will be taken up in the Senate to-morrow and considered, and the Legislature will probably adjourn on Thursday.

REPRIMANDED.

Speaker Jordan's Fatherly Admonition to the Wayward Clerk.

SACRAMENTO, March 7.—There was an unusual crowd in the Assembly chamber this afternoon when the clock pointed to 2:15 o'clock, that being the time set for reprimanding Ray Falk. When silence was obtained the Speaker read the following communication:

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER,
SACRAMENTO, March 7, 1887.
To Hon. W. H. Jordan, Speaker of the Assembly:

"DEAR SIR:—Herewith I tender my resignation as Assistant Minute Clerk of the Assembly. I am doing so I desire to reiterate that I am entirely innocent of the charge preferred against me. Respectfully, RAY G. FALK."

A motion to accept the resignation was defeated. Young, of Sacramento, then offered a resolution reciting that as Ray Falk had not appeared before the bar of the House to receive a reprimand, that he be dismissed from his position of Assistant Minute Clerk. The motion was lost. Silence ensued for a moment. It was broken by the Speaker's command: "The Sergeant-at-Arms will produce Mr. Ray Falk before the bar of this House." Falk, who was in the lobby, walked up the aisle. The Speaker, standing in his place, delivered the reprimand. Speaker Jordan said: "Mr. Falk, this House has imposed upon the Speaker the most disagreeable duty of his life. At the commencement of this session of the Legislature you were selected to fill the office of Minute Clerk of the House, and you were selected to that position because we thought you both capable and honest. Not long after rumors were circulated that you had been guilty of tampering with the records of the House. A committee was appointed, who made a careful, patient and lengthy examination of the charges. You were cited before them, you appeared and gave your testimony. After carefully sitting all the evidence, the committee held you unanimously guilty of having wilfully and wrongfully attempted to alter the position of bills upon the file of this House. They have made their report, and the House has concurred therein. The committee recommended that you be removed from the service of this House. Out of kindness of heart of the members your punishment has been modified from dismissal to a reprimand by the chair. I am not unmindful at this time of the fact that you are a young man, nor that in company with many young men, you are looking forward to the future; that you are building hopes upon that future; that you look forward to it as having in store for you many pleasures. I am not unmindful either of the fact that, even at this moment, a kind and loving wife, upon her bed of sickness, is turning her thoughts and heart toward you. Though mindful of the facts and strongly moved by them to cause you as little pain as I may; yet, I cannot forget the fact that you are arraigned, not only at the bar of this House but at the bar of the Commonwealth, for having committed a high crime. I am not unmindful of the fact that you have been found guilty of wilfully and wrongfully attempting to tamper with the public records of the highest body in the Commonwealth; that, had you succeeded in carrying out your design concerning those files, some of the most sacred rights of the people would have been frustrated; and, therefore, you are arraigned to this place from all your future you carry the memory of this mistake, if mistake it was, in your mind. Let it not crush you, but rather let it be a lesson that will keep you away from the rocks of temptation—far away from the paths of evil-doers and lead you into an upright and proper life, where you may in future receive the good wishes and benedictions of your fellowmen. You may now take your seat at the desk." Falk walked up to his desk, and the regular business was proceeded with.

THE NOGALES AFFAIR.

The Americans Relieved by the Arrival of Lawton.

NOGALES, March 7.—There is nothing new to-day regarding the international difficulty at this place. The men sent out by the Mexican authorities in pursuit of the principals in the melee the other night, returned last evening and reported to Governor Torres and Commandante Rivera that they could get no trace of the fugitives. Early this morning another party of four, headed by the Chief of Police, started out in pursuit. Captain Lawton, who hurried to this place from Los Angeles, stopped over last night to investigate the situation of affairs, and returned to Fort Huachuca to-day. He will be absent two days. Much relief is felt by the citizens since the arrival of Captain Lawton and Dorset.

Suicide of a Hotel Manager.

SAN DIEGO, March 7.—Fred W. Young, manager of the St. James hotel, committed suicide this morning by taking chloral hydrate.

THE GRAPE-GROWERS.

Resolution About the Pure Wine Bill Sent to the Governor.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—The Convention of the Grape-Growers and Wine Makers' Association opened this morning in the Grand Hotel. There are 400 or more exhibitors of wines, chiefly of the vintages of 1884, 1885 and 1886. President H. W. McIntyre, in his address, said: "During the past year much has been accomplished for good and the outlook is most encouraging. In this State our efforts have been crowned with success. I congratulate you on the passage of the Pure Wine bill. I regret that I am unable to inform you just how many acres of vines are planted in the State nor the number of vines of each variety. We ought to be able to tell at a glance where each variety of grape may be found and the number of vines. It would facilitate the work of blending, preparing and marketing." The speaker referred to vine pests and diseases as meriting the closest attention, not only in the convention, but in the vineyard.

M. M. Estee offered the following resolution, which was adopted, and later was telegraphed to Sacramento by the secretary:

Resolved, That this convention unanimously unite in requesting the Governor of the State to sign the Pure Wine bill, as passed by both Houses of the Legislature, and now awaiting Executive action.

The Grading in Santa Ana Canyon Nearing Completion.

SANTA ANA, March 7.—Work on the Riverside, Los Angeles and Santa Ana railroad branch of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe system is progressing. The grading forces have been increased in numbers and work is now being hurried through with all possible speed. It is expected that the grading in Santa Ana canyon will be finished in two weeks, when all the forces will be put to work grading down in the valley. The original intention of the company was to first build the road through to Los Angeles; then build from here to San Diego. This plan has been abandoned and the road will now be first built to San Diego. Southern Pacific Railway Company engineers are running a new line east of San Juan Capistrano from San Juan to San Diego.

EASTERN.

A Phase of the Chinese Question.

STRIKES IN PENNSYLVANIA.

A Negro Murderer Hanged With-out Ceremony by an Infuriated Missouri Mob.

Associated Press Dispatches to the Herald.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—A decision was rendered to-day by the United States Court in the case of Thomas Baldwin, plaintiff in error, vs. J. C. Franks, United States Marshal, in error, carried up from the United States Circuit Court of California. The case presents a phase of the Chinese question and involves the rights of the Chinese under the Federal law. On the 17th of February, 1886, Baldwin, the plaintiff in error, and other citizens in the mining town of Nicolaus, Sutter county, California, drove out of that town with force and violence a number of resident Chinese, by placing them on board of the steamboat Barge, plying on the Feather river and sending them out of the limits of the town and county. Baldwin was arrested under a warrant issued by the Commissioner of the Circuit Court, charging him with having entered into a conspiracy with certain other persons to deprive these Chinese of the equal protection of the law, and of equal privileges and immunities under such laws. Baldwin applied to the Circuit Court for his discharge upon a writ of habeas corpus, but it was refused and he appealed to the United States Supreme Court, upon the ground that the charge made against him was not sufficient to justify his detention. The Justices of the Circuit Court were divided in their opinion as to the following question:

1. Whether the conspiracy which resulted in the expulsion of the Chinese from Nicolaus, in the manner set forth in the record, was an offense in violation of section 5519, of the United States statutes, and if so whether this section, as applied to such a state of facts, is constitutional.

2. Whether the acts charged against Baldwin and his fellow conspirators constituted an offense within the meaning of section 5508 of the Revised Statutes, and if so whether that section is constitutional.

3. Whether such acts, so performed, constitute an offense within the meaning of that clause (section 5536 of the Revised Statutes) which makes it an offense for persons to conspire by force to prevent, hinder or delay the execution of any law of the United States, and if so whether that section is constitutional. The Court in a long and elaborate opinion by Chief Justice Waite held that the United States undoubtedly has the power to provide for the punishment of those who are guilty of depriving Chinese subjects of any rights, privileges, immunities or exemptions, guaranteed them by treaties. After reviewing carefully in the light of previous decisions all the questions raised by the case the Court reversed the judgment of the Court below, which denied the prisoners petition for release on habeas corpus and remanded the case for further proceedings. Justices Field and Harlan dissented.

RAILROAD STRIKES.

Industries in Pennsylvania Badly Crippled.

PITTSBURGH, March 7.—A special from Youngstown, Ohio, says that the situation between the officers and the striking brakemen on the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio railroad is practically unchanged. The excitement increased this morning by the conductors and brakemen in the employ of the Pennsylvania company striking. They demanded an advance of wages two months ago, receiving no answer, and decided to quit this morning. The men are quiet and orderly and manifest a determination to secure an advance or to not return to work. The brakemen on the Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Toledo road have stated that if a third brakeman is not put on they will strike on Thursday of this week. Industrial establishments are badly crippled for stock and a general shutdown is imperative unless traffic is resumed.

WINONA MEDICINE.

A Negro Murderer Hanged by a Mob to a Tree.

WINONA, Minn., March 1.—Alex Crawford, a negro murderer, was taken from jail by an immense crowd of enraged citizens to-day and hanged from a tree on the railroad, a few rods from the town. The crowd, being armed with a broomstick which he wielded with effect, but he was finally overpowered. He died, refusing to make any declaration. His victim was Vic. Loggins, a prominent merchant of Winona, whom he killed on the evening of February 23th.

DECIDED UPON.

Three Members of the Interstate Commission to be Appointed.

NEW YORK, March 7.—A Washington dispatch says: It can be said on high authority that three members of the Interstate Commerce Commission are absolutely decided upon. The President is in doubt about the two remaining selections. William R. Morrison has accepted the tender of a Commissioner-ship, and probably will be chairman of that Commission. Judge Cooley, of Michigan, receiver of the Veterans' fund, and General Bagge, of Alabama, will also be Commissioners. The former is a Republican, and one of the ablest jurists of the country. The latter will represent the South.

WILL NOT SIGN.

Refuses his Signature to the River and Harbor Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Although pressure had been brought to bear upon the President to induce him to approve the River and Harbor bill, and strong arguments have been made and cases cited to establish the authority for the Executive to sign any bill within ten days after the adjournment of Congress, the President has refused to sign the bill. He is authorized to sign the bill, but he has refused to do so.

Mormons Electing Their Ticket.

SALT LAKE, March 7.—In the municipal election at Brigham City the Mormons took the new oath and elected the Church ticket by an overwhelming majority.

NEW RAILROADS.

The Vanderbilt Roads to Have a Good Western Outlet.

NEW YORK, March 7.—The Wall Street Indicator says: A very important railroad enterprise is now projected, in which the Vanderbilt roads are interested and which will give that system a reliable western connection. The project is to build a line from Kansas City to Alton. The company has already been organized for this purpose and the title of the Central Missouri Railway Company. The line will be about 300 miles long and will have a branch to Hannibal, ninety-five miles long. The road will connect with St. Louis and Chicago. It now extends from St. Louis to Springfield and will shortly reach Peoria, where it will be brought in connection with the system of roads centering at that point. At Litchfield connection will be made with Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati and Indianapolis and that route will be made part of the great southwestern system, which will make that property one of the most valuable of the Vanderbilt lines. At Joliet the Michigan Central will also be given connection with the Chicago, Santa Fe and California, recently purchased by the Atchison Company.

HAPLESS BRAKEMEN.

Two of Them Killed While Crossing the Daily Bread.

SALT LAKE, Utah, March 7.—Albert Merritt, a brakeman on the Union Pacific, had his right arm, from the shoulder to the elbow, crushed while at work on a train near Evanston this afternoon. He was taken to Ogden, where he died at six this evening.

The Will Contest of S. J. Tilden.

NEW YORK, March 7.—The answer of John Bigelow, Andrew H. Green and George W. Smith, as executors under the will of the late Samuel J. Tilden, to the complaint of Geo. H. Tilden, who contests it on the ground that it is illegal and invalid, was filed to-day in the Supreme Court. It recites the names of the relatives, and claims that the plaintiff has no right to institute or maintain a suit; that the deceased was unmarried and that his wife, Mrs. Pelton, and his children and nieces, are not entitled to any of the estate. It is denied that the amount of the estate is anywhere near $15,000,000. It is claimed in conclusion that the defendants are appointed as executors under the will and they refer to the original as their authority.

Old "Probs" Fund Exhausted.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The Signal Service is likely to be early pinched by the failure of the General Deficiency Appropriation bill. The most serious consequences of the failure of the bill, perhaps, will be the discontinuance of storm warnings, cold waves, etc., at a number of important points, owing to the failure of the item appropriating $18,000 for telegraphing and reporting these warnings. So nearly exhausted is the sum now available for this purpose that a heavy cut must be made in the service at a very early day.

A Bribing Sergeant-at-Arms.

DENVER, Col., March 7.—W. H. Aker, Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives, was arrested this morning on a warrant charging him with attempted bribery. There are now before the House bills to regulate irrigating ditch companies, pawn-brokers and one for a high license for retail liquor dealers, and it is alleged that Aker offered one member $100 if he would cast his vote against these measures. It is also stated that Aker is one of a combination of seven formed to defeat these bills, the other six being members of the House and Senate.

Washington Gossip.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Trotter, the new Recorder of Deeds for the District of Columbia, called at the White House to-day, in company with ex-Recorder Matthews and was formally presented to the President. It was his first meeting.

Taxing Drummers Unconstitutional.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The Supreme Court has rendered a decision in the case brought from Tennessee, which involves the right of one State or municipality to impose a license tax on drummers or traveling salesmen from another State seeking to sell goods by sample or otherwise. The decision is that such taxation is an interference with interstate commerce, and is therefore unconstitutional.

Will Delay the Free Delivery System.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The Postmaster-General to-day said that the failure of the Deficiency bill will probably not interfere with the operations of his department, except to delay the establishment of the free delivery service in new places.

The Redemption of the Trade Dollar.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Acting Secretary Fairchild to-day made arrangements for the redemption of trade dollars at all sub-treasuries. This will include the Treasury at Washington. A circular on this subject was issued this afternoon.

Lost Explorers.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 7.—A party of explorers left Vancouver a few days before Christmas, their destination understood to be Knight's Inlet. As they had provisions for only five weeks, and have not yet been heard from, it is feared that all have perished. A search party will proceed north to ascertain their fate.

Reached his Post.

DUBLIN, March 7.—Balfour, the new Chief Secretary for Ireland, has arrived here.

DAIRYING IN LOS ANGELES COUNTY.

The following is the valuable paper read by Mr. W. W. Cook, of Santa Ana, at the late meeting of the Pomological Society here. Mr. Cook has made the subject he treats upon a study, and is therefore competent to give an opinion as a guide to those who desire to engage in the dairying business in this, the best alfalfa-growing region in the United States. Mr. Cook said:

"There is a large tract of land lying east, south and southwest of Santa Ana, embracing 7000 acres of land, known as the Moist Belt, where the water rises to within a few feet of the surface. Yet corn is grown in immense quantities, yielding 73 to 100 bushels per acre. All or nearly all of the fodder or milk-producing plants are at home in almost this entire belt. Flowing wells are abundant. What is wanted is some of our enterprising farmers to take these lands in hand, and in things as they are doing very extensively in the United States, or in the manner as they do in France or Italy, and I might say, many other provinces that I visited in my rambles in foreign countries. Our climate is far more uniform than the Italian climate. I spent one winter there and kept the record. The temperature thus far in this valley is as follows: At 6 a. m., 40 degrees; at zero; 12 m., 68 degrees; at 6 p. m., 46 degrees. This is the 17th day of January, 1887, this being the lowest thus far, and there has been but a slight variation for the past seven years. Cows are grazing in alfalfa up to their eyes at this date."

Land can be bought at from $20 to $60 per acre within ten miles of Santa Ana, but the best is the cheapest in the end if it cost $100 per acre. On such land and with the material can be planted and gathered every day of the year. If, as a starting point, 100 acres be bought, then 80 should be planted with alfalfa, an invaluable feeding plant, and is at home in our soil and climate. [As a sample of the productiveness of alfalfa I would state that one acre has yielded me twelve tons per year for several years, it having been cut eight times, from March to December; and with greater care might have been cut ten times.] Eighty acres having been planted as we have said, ten more should be sown to wheat or barley in early winter, for hay. The wheat being taken off the stubble should be turned under and two and one-half acres planted with pumpkins at once, the same amount of land being planted in the same manner in June, and twice that amount in July for winter and spring feeding. As soon as the first crop of pumpkins has been gathered, sow the thickly with corn in drills. Ninety acres being taken up in this way the next should be devoted to beets, planting in succession, as advised for pumpkins. The land is kept busy as it were, producing milk-making material all the time.

"The average crop of pumpkins may be stated at 20 tons per acre, and of beets 40 tons. Alfalfa should be cut when in bloom, and sown in winter and spring. Late planted pumpkins will keep until spring, or even early summer. Beets contain more nourishing material the first year, although I have found those of the second year to be very good for stock."

"I think I am safe in saying that 125 cows and two spans of horses can be kept in first-rate condition on 100 acres of good land—treated as above recommended. It is a good plan to have two corrals supplied with feeding racks, these can be used alternately, and the milk fed to the stock from the one with empty racks into the one where the racks have been filled. Perhaps it might be well to plant about three acres with trees. The pepper and the eucalyptus, or gum, are both suitable for this purpose, being evergreen and a pleasant shelter for stock because insects avoid them. They are rapid growers, and it is well known that they have some effect upon the atmosphere, which prevents both man and beast from being attacked by fevers. Therefore there need be no fear of the 'milk fever,' which is so prevalent in the Eastern States of the country. Stock are not disposed to eat the leaves of these trees, but protect themselves from flies under their drooping branches. A plentiful supply of pure water is absolutely necessary for dairy stock, and so are buildings for shelter and the proper care of milk. Milk of the first quality and in large quantities can only be obtained from a cow on whose comfort you bestow great care; keep her quiet and make her comfortable and she will repay you well. Our climate being so uniformly mild and green food always to be obtained, it is found that the supply of milk given by a cow is more constant than in climates where the food is dry and where much of the food must be given in a dry state. Not only is the supply more constant, but the quality is better. I visited L. A. Carey's herd of fifty cows a few days since, and in a conversation with him on the subject he said: 'It is my opinion that we in this locality (near Santa Ana) can raise as much good butter and cheese-producing food on one acre as they can in the Eastern States on five acres.' Mr. Carey ought to know, he having been in the dairy business in New Jersey for several years. His father remarked: 'I suppose there is not a spot on this green earth better adapted to the production of butter and the manufacture and curing of cheese than is Los Angeles county.' And, continued, 'it will be generally admitted that the cheese made by Mr. Harshman, of Compton, is equal in quality to any made in the Eastern States, and it is my opinion that Santa Ana is more favorably located for the curing of cheese than Compton.'"

No Change in Beecher's Condition.

NEW YORK, March 7.—2 p. m.—Mr. Beecher's pulse is a little more rapid. There is no other perceptible change. [NOTE.—All wires on the Central route, between Ogden and Cheyenne, are working badly, owing to a heavy wind storm. This delayed the Eastern report. An Associated Press dispatch at 2:30 a. m. mentioned that no further report from Beecher would be sent unless he died.]

Died From his Injuries.

MERCE, March 7.—It is rumored here that R. B. Stolder, attorney at law at Mariposa, one of the victims of the fire there on Saturday morning last, died of his injuries. He was seriously ill when he made the desperate leap from the second story window to escape from the burning hotel.

Reached his Post.

DUBLIN, March 7.—Balfour, the new Chief Secretary for Ireland, has arrived here.

FOREIGN.

A German Warning to Russia.

KAISER WILLIAM SPEAKS.

The Rinstchuk Revolt Apt to Lead to Grave International Complications.

Associated Press Dispatches to the Herald.

BERLIN, March 7.—The Kölnische Zeitung warns Russia that even German patience towards neighbors has its limits, and says: "If Russia compels Germany to take account of the Franco-Russian agreement, let her beware lest she may herself have to consider a hostile Germany." The Kreuzer Zeitung says: "Letters from St. Petersburg state that general hatred of Germany and popularity of France are becoming a sort of violent epidemic in Russia."

EMPEROR WILLIAM.

Convinced of the Pacific Disposition of the Pope.

BERLIN, March 7.—Emperor William yesterday received Herr Wedel Piederoff, President of the Reichstag. In the conversation which took place the Emperor said that he was reluctantly compelled to dissolve the late Reichstag, despite his explanation to the Reichstag of the superiority of the Germans over their neighbors in military matters. The opposition, being in the majority, refused to sanction the military bill to a necessary extent, and a reasonable hope had been adopted after the example given by France had proved fallacious. It was more gratifying now to cherish the hope that a large majority in the new Reichstag would accept the bill at the outset. Referring to the attitude of the Pope during the elections, he said that he had already been convinced of the pacific disposition of His Holiness, and that it was on this account that Germany had asked him to act as arbitrator in the dispute with Spain about the Caroline Islands. In conclusion the Emperor expressed the hope that all ecclesiastical trouble between Prussia and the Vatican would be peacefully and completely settled.

THE BULGARIA MUDDLE.

The German Consul Will Not Surrender the Man.

SOFIA, March 7.—The German Consul at Rusechuk, whose protection was sought by Captain Ballman, one of the leaders in the recent revolt, who claimed to be a Russian spy, has been requested by the Bulgarian authorities to surrender the refugee. He has refused on the ground that his Government has not instructed him to do so.

Declines Promotion.

PARIS, March 7.—The Figaro states that on a plea of ill health, Monsignor Rampoldi del Tinnaro, Nuncio at Madrid, has declined the Papal Secretaryship, made vacant by the death of Cardinal Jacobini.

Scared Bonifaces.

PARIS, March 7.—In consequence of the panic caused by the recent earthquake, hotel keepers here are selling out at a great sacrifice. Many of the inhabitants are still camping out.

Conflict of Names.

The Southern Pacific Company has a station forty-two miles east of Los Angeles, called Cucamonga. Two and a half miles north of this station, upon the high mesa, is a settlement with a church, school-house, stores, telephone and postoffice, called Cucamonga. The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad has graded and laid a track near this settlement and will erect a depot in the center of the ranch. But the trouble now is to find a name for the station. Cucamonga, but the same name within two miles of each other would cause many disappointments by misdirection of property and disappointment of passengers in being left at the wrong station by getting on the wrong train.

The Only Way out of the trouble is to give the new station a new name. North Cucamonga has been suggested as the proper nomenclature, but that is considered too long. The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe company suggest the name of Marcellina, after Claudius Marcellus, the great Roman general, who used to defeat Hannibal, the great Carthaginian captain. The name is euphonious, but the fate of Marcellus is not pleasant to contemplate, as he was slain by his enemies. Then there was Marcellus, a Pope of Rome, who only lived twenty-two days after his election. Why not name the place Hellman, after Mr. I. W. Hellman, the President of the company. The Carthaginians can never get away with him by leading him into an ambush. He has proved on many occasions that he is no less renowned than war.

DUBLIN, March 7.—Balfour, the new Chief Secretary for Ireland, has arrived here.

SACRAMENTO.

FORESTRY APPROPRIATION.

The Constitutional amendment relating to the reorganization of the Supreme Courts, as amended by the Assembly, was adopted.

EVENING SESSION.

In the Ryland-Conklin contest the minority report of the Committee on Elections, which reported in favor of Conklin, was adopted. Senator Conklin, therefore, retains his seat.

In the Assembly to-day Lawrence introduced a resolution to adjourn at midnight Wednesday. It was made the special order for Wednesday afternoon. The Assembly and Oakland charter was adopted. A message was received from the Governor stating that he had approved Wright's irrigation bill. The announcement was greeted with applause. THE SCHOONER SAFE.

NOGALES, Cal., March 7.—There was great joy among the destitute women and children from the Topolobampo colony last evening when the cattle schooner, which was supposed to have been lost at sea, sailed into the bay at Guaymas. The schooner was more than three weeks at sea, and the sufferings of those on board were terrible.

Hospitals.

EDITOR HERALD.—The man who has a home and a wife, mother, sister or other kindred to nurse him and minister to his needs and wants, when he is sick or otherwise physically disabled, is indeed fortunate. To one who is homeless and ill-afflicted, an invalid hospital is a blessed home of rest. It was my happy lot, on coming to your city, some weeks ago, worn weary and sick, to be placed in St. Vincent's Sanitarium—the Sisters' Hospital. In my walk through its long and wide corridors, in and out many of its rooms, and inquiring into the general management of this noble institution, I was enabled to, at least, judge for myself of its merits. Everything in and about it moves with the most precise exactness, and with perfect order and regularity—no noise,

It is well protected by the foothills and commands a fine panoramic view of Corvina, Azusa, Duarte, Monrovia, Sierra Madre, Pasadena, Raymond, etc. The Puente oil wells are becoming noted, and are furnishing fuel for many large manufacturing in different parts of the State. INQUIRIES FROM ABROAD.

Letters of Inquiry From Teachers and Artists.

We take the liberty of publishing the following letter from three young men who wish to establish a Military Academy in an eligible western city.

CHAPMAN HILL, N. C., Feb. 25, 1887.

EDITOR HERALD—We, the undersigned, are students in this institution and believing that there are better opportunities for educated men in the West than in North Carolina, are desirous of emigrating as soon as we graduate, which will be next June.

We are taking special courses. One of us is preparing himself in civil and mining engineering, another in mathematics, Latin and Greek, and a third in English, German and French. Now, we wish to go west and set up a first-class Military Academy for boys of from 12 to 21 years old, and we wish to ask your advice as to Los Angeles as a suitable location, and your opinion as to how your people would patronize an institution of the kind. We would like to establish a school, which would not only attract pupils from the vicinity, but from all parts of the State and from adjoining States. We wish to know what the people think of education. Are they thoroughly aroused on the subject? If we could be assured of a sufficient number of pupils, we would have an officer detailed from the United States Military Academy at West Point, to act as instructor in military tactics. We would esteem it a great favor if you would kindly give us your advice and opinion on the subject, and any information concerning schools, salaries paid teachers, etc., would be cordially received.

Yours, very truly,
R. N. HACKETT,
L. B. EDWARDS,
FRANK W. J. LONG.

In reply to our young friends we would say that their scheme strikes us as one worthy of serious consideration. A first-class military academy established here would arrest the attention of the entire section, and secure, we have no doubt, a paying patronage. We course the success of the institution would depend very materially upon the character of its conduct. If it were "first class," as the gentlemen propose to make it, we have no doubt whatever that it would succeed. There is only one institution of the kind we can call to mind in California, and that is the McClure Academy at Oakland. That has been a very decided success. But a military academy established here would have the advantage of meeting the wants of a section that is rapidly increasing in wealth and population, and which is destined to become one of the most flourishing centers on the continent. Young men of capacity and ambition, who will devote their entire energies to the building up of such an academy here, will lay the foundation for their own fortunes and for an institution which will bring them lasting fame in the end. Our people are enthusiastically devoted to the cause of education, and they would give such hearty welcome to the inauguration of an institution of this kind as would encourage its founders in putting forth every effort toward its success.

Here is another letter of inquiry which we prefer to answer in print rather than by private correspondence:

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 27, 1887.
EDITOR HERALD—Would you be kind enough to inform me whether there would be any chance for me in Los Angeles as a wood engraver (engraving on wood for printers to print from, such illustrations as are in catalogues of manufacturers and in papers and books of all kinds of wood engravings). If you would be kind enough to inform me about it I would be very much obliged and I would gladly pay whatever expenses are involved with it. Hoping that I will soon hear from you, I am,
Yours very respectfully,
THOS. RAPP,
52 Vernon street, New Haven, Conn.

Mr. Rapp, if he is a first-class artist, could not do better than to set up an atelier in Los Angeles. The printers here are very numerous, and there is always demand for good wood engravings. Rapp wishes to test his fortune outside of New Haven, he could not do better than to try Los Angeles.

The Greatest Study of Mankind is Man.

The greatest study of mankind is man, and who ere his wondrous frame doth teach, Ponder and devise to cure an ill, Whether by device, fruit or pill. An equal benefactor is he; and we haste, The inventor of a charitable taste, To do him honor.

Who remembers not how the distressed mother, Her child's distresses tries to smother, That she might not the horrid dose be taken, The remembrance e'en now does nausea awaken.

And fond father, To be witness of his child's torture, would rather Pay high price, If money could purchase Cathartic nice.

We have it now! and great Dr. Pratt's name Appears upon the scroll of Esculapian fame; For after long study what would suit, Has his upon this subject found.

Away at once with draughts and pills: For whether it be indigestion, liver complaint, Or any disease to which flesh is heir, He here with pride does boldly declare, And on the exertion will water his tear, That it can be cured by a HAMBURG FIG!

A Pretty Woman's Secret.
Fear of discovery, when she resorts to false hair and dyes, is a source of constant anxiety to her. The very persons from whom she most desires to hide the want of her charms are the ones most likely to make the discovery. But there is no reason why she should not regain and retain all the beauty of her hair that was her pride in youth. Let her use AYER'S Hair Vigor, and, not only will her hair cease to fall out, but a new growth will appear where the scalp has been denuded; and locks that are turning gray, or have turned brown, will return to their original pristine freshness and brilliancy of color. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR cures.

Hereditary Baldness.
GEORGE MAYER, Flatonia, Texas, was bald at 25 years of age, as his ancestors had been for generations. One bottle of HAIR VIGOR started a growth of soft, downy hair all over his scalp, which soon became thick, long, and vigorous.

Ayer's Hair Vigor
is not a dye, but, by healthful stimulation of the roots and color glands, speedily restores to its original color hair that is turning gray.

Mrs. Catherine Deamer, Point of Rocks, Md., had her hair suddenly blanched by fright, during the late civil war. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR restored it to its natural color, and made it softer, glossier, and more abundant than it had been before.

Scalp Diseases
Which cause dryness, brittleness, and falling of the hair, dandruff, itching, and annoying sores, are all quickly cured by AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. It is called HERBERT ROYD, Minneapolis, Minn., of intolerable itching of the scalp; J. N. CARTER, Jr., Oceanport, Va., of SCALD HEAD, and D. V. S. LOVAGE, Louisville, Ky., of Tetter Sores. Bessie H. Bedloe, Burlington, Vt., of Scalp Disease and Dandruff. Torpid Chander, of New York, of itching of the scalp, which, if neglected, may result in incurable baldness, is readily cured by AYER'S HAIR VIGOR.

A Toilet Luxury
AYER'S HAIR VIGOR has no equal. It is coloring, clearly, delightfully perfumed, and has the effect of making the hair soft, pliant, and glossy.

HAMBURG FIGS.
Probably as much misery comes from habitual constipation as from any derangement of the functions of the body, and it is difficult to cure for the reason that no one likes to take the medicine that is usually prescribed. Hamburg Figs are prepared to obviate this difficulty, and they will be found effective as well as pleasant to the taste of women and children. 25 cents.
